SAFETY AND SALVATION.

The society observing Conneltsville News says:
"The Courier says the tragedy at the T. & O. shops would not have occurred had the evangelists not been at the scene. True, but there were no evangelists near the McCrory store when five persons lost their lives by fire, although Evangelist Davis was not at the scene of the disaster."
Well, what of it?

The News itself has been calling attention to the fact that these ghastly accidents always happen in Conneltsville when there is an evangelistic revival meeting in progress.
As a matter of fact there is no necessary connection between the two save as circumstances may place it there. There was certainly no connection between the McCrory fire and the revival meetings then in progress, but it was different with the accident at the Conneltsville shops. The evangelists were there before the fire, and it was a question for the railroad officials to determine whether such meetings in such places at such hours are entirely safe. If they are not, or if there is any doubt about the matter, the meetings should be discontinued.
Safety should be the first consideration in the shops and salvation the first consideration in the Tabernacle.

PROGRESSIVE DUNBAR.

Dunbar is progressive. It will renew its proposition to the voters for a bond issue of $25,000 for sewers, streets and water systems, $20,000 for school buildings. These propositions were up several years ago, but the times were not very propitious and they were laid aside until a more favorable season. Conneltsville is not the only progressive community in this section. The spirit of improvement is abroad in the land. Dunbar has demonstrated its ability to locate some industries which have added materially to the wealth and population of the town, and the town should build up in order to make itself worthy of being a first-class industrial community. First-class industries, be it remembered, won't move into fourth-rate communities.

The News' very properly protest against the practice of marking the new 700 trolley cars built in the shops here, "Built at the West Penn Shops," without mentioning Conneltsville. The practice is decidedly unfair to Conneltsville and should call forth a vigorous protest from the civic authorities and business associations of the city.

For that chase after Dandit Villa and his cutthroat crew, the United States should enlist 5,000 cowboys.

The United States veterans are growing fewer and the work of the pension agents is getting less, but there are plenty of commissions and bureaus to take care of the pension office, and in Pennsylvania we have discovered that the magnificent new capitol building at Harrisburg is not to be big for the scheme of government as now laid out.

It doesn't pay to be shodderly on the trolley cars. Public safety, the trolley and the law disconcerted it.

Up in Uniontown William Hoyle found Frank McLee in his house, and Frank was all out up about it, and it was done strictly according to Hoyle. But Frank didn't think it was according to law. And that is what the jury told William. The court will probably expound the rules of the game according to law a little further to William Hoyle.

Steel orders break all records, but Conneltsville's coke trade is still within the limit.

A woman wanted a reserve seat at the Bob Jones meeting for the balance of the week. If she is a sinner she should have a seat on the stool of repentance. She is presumably a saved soul since she was told there was no reserved seats.

Dawson is not going to be a whit behind other progressive centers in "society" observances. Beginning on Monday it will celebrate "Community Week" when the whole town will pay heed to the slogan of the public schools, "Come to school and watch us work."

Looks like that same old war with Mexico. If we must have war perhaps it had better be with Mexico. I can handle it. It is also easier.

General Frederick Funston of Nebraska gets a job. Mexico. Now if the administration could find William Jennings Bryan occupation in a warm climate.

Uncle Henry Cassaway Davis, the Grand Old Man of the Democratic party, has passed into the Great Beyond full of years and honors. Uncle Henry was not as progressive as Uncle Henry, but he was more practical and more industrious and persevering.

There are five ministers on the Fayette county jury this week and we ought to have justice properly tempered with mercy.

Looking Backward

News of the Past Continued from the First of The Courier.

FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1886.

An explosion of fire-damp, the third in the history of the coke region to this date, occurs in Uniondale mine at Dunbar, resulting in the loss of five lives.

Jacob Dull and a companion while waiting up the Baltimore & O. O. trucks near Gibson, are started almost out of their wits by the sudden appearance of a ball of fire rolling swiftly and silently along the rail ahead of them.

J. K. Ewing of Uniontown and C. A. Terrence of New Haven are elected directors of the Southwest Pennsylvania Railroad Company.
Charles F. Hood arranges to begin the study of law in the office of T. S. Newmyer.

During the marriage of a young out-of-town couple in "Sultra Henry Page's" office, the 12 electric whistles in loose with unusual efficiency. Telling this to be the introduction of a vigorous sonorous the contracting parties become so badly frightened that cessation of the ceremony also became an embarrassment to the officiating justice.

Speculation as to the identity of Conneltsville's new postmaster is not at rest by the appointment of John A. McNeill upon the recommendation of Congressman C. E. Doyle.

The marriage of Miss Lizzie Beeler, daughter of John Beeler, to William Jamison of Greensburg, is solemnized at the bride's home.
James B. Hogg, John Kaine and James Barnes go to Seattle, Washington, with a view to locating there.

The cost of living comes down. The illuminating gas rate is cut to $1.50 from $2.00 at the same time that The Courier announces a reduction from $2.00 to $1.50 in rate of subscription, and the adoption of the cash-in-advance plan.

Henry Wolfe and Miss Zaida McDaniel are married by Rev. G. C. Sheppard of the Methodist Protestant Church.

FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1886.

Detailed report of the coke trade for the week ending March 7, shows a total of 17,347 ovens in the region, of which 12,250 are in blast, and 5,097 idle, with an estimated production of 123,425 tons, an increase of 1,000 tons over the previous week.

Shipments for the week aggregated 4,484 cars, consigned as follows: To Pittsburgh, 1,510 cars; to points west, 5,221 cars; to points east, 1,153 cars, an increase of 175 cars over the previous week.

The deadlock in council is broken by the election of H. Martini president; H. A. Crow, clerk; Howell & Reppert, solicitors; Young Bank, borough treasurer; and S. M. Poust, borough engineer. Barton Stillwagon, Thomas McDonald and B. Kottler are chosen police officers.

In the production of the cantata, "David, the Shepherd Boy," to the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., Miss Isabel D. Newmyer and Miss Frances G. White divide honors in the rendition of the leading parts.

The report of W. G. Gans, superintendent of schools, gives the following as honor pupils in the several grades: No. 1, Bertha Tankin; No. 2, Bessie Almer; No. 3, John Nicholson; No. 4, B. Mary Martin; No. 5, James R. Gline; No. 6, Anna Kate Trump; No. 7, Alice Sauter; No. 8, A. Jennie Frank; No. 9, B. Mary Martin; No. 10, Kate Francis; No. 11, Jennie Lockhart; No. 12, A. Bessie Martin; No. 13, Bessie Martin; No. 14, Bessie Martin; No. 15, Bessie Martin.

SCHOOL BOARD EXPLAINS WHY IT NEEDS $250,000 FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Number Two.

The School Board has made a careful survey of the local school situation. It feels the necessity, as a result, of adding the people to the board to issue bonds to the extent of $250,000 that the public school system of Conneltsville may develop in harmony with educational advancement elsewhere and the present and promised growth of the City of Conneltsville.

We ask the people to bear in mind in arriving at their conclusion in this matter the following:
1st—The proceeds of bonds so issued will be used only for permanent outlay in the erection of buildings and equipment.
2nd—The schools of Conneltsville are badly congested and need immediate relief.

Conneltsville has been called upon to furnish loss in the way of funds for educational purposes than any other progressive school district of its size in Western Pennsylvania.
3rd—The power to authorize the issuing of bonds is vested in the people. The School Board still has the right under the law to increase the tax levy. Unless one or the other of the above courses is followed the school system of Conneltsville will suffer.

4th—The cost of education in Conneltsville has not been extravagant.
5th—The child is the first consideration of the Board in its plans both for building and education.

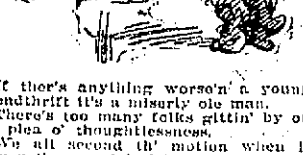

6th—The proceeds of any bond issue authorized will relieve and lighten the burden of the city, and immediately help all sections of the city, and we believe will provide for all the needs of the city for some time to come.

7th—The bonds will be paid for during the next thirty years, thus relieving the present taxpayer of the greater part of the burden.

Articles explanatory and in substantiation will be published from time to time by this board during the next four weeks. You are requested to give them careful perusal.

J. H. DAVIDSON, OBER WOOD, J. W. HAINES, OBER WOOD, C. ROY HETZEL, RALPH K. LONG, Conneltsville Board of School Directors.

Abe Martin.

If there's anything worse'n a young sinner, it's a miserly old man. There's too many folks gittin' by on a phish o' shroudsness. We all second it, motion when it comes t' a movie-picture.

AUTOPSY IS HELD OVER THE BODY OF A SCOTSDALE MAN

Efforts Being Made to Ascertain Cause of Bornick's Death.

HE DROPPED DEAD AT HIS WORK

Women Decide That Christ-Like Love Is Too Large a Proposition for the Town; Pastor Holds Evangelistic Meetings in Sweetwater; Other News.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, March 11.—A dissection over what really caused the death of Joseph Bornick, aged 28 years, who died while at work in the mill here on Tuesday night, caused an autopsy to be held on the body by the coroner's physician, Dr. M. J. Hoyer. No decision will be made known for a day or so. Deputy Coroner William Peterson had viewed the body and prepared it for burial. The funeral services were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church and interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery. Bornick lived in Sweetwater.

LEAGUE SEASON ENDS.

The volleyball game at the Y. M. C. A. today will close this series of league games. The standing of the teams is as follows:

Chautauque	18	0	1,000
Traders	12	6	450
Quakers	6	6	300
Cubs	7	8	467
Traders	0	8	125
Joads	5	12	375
White Sox	5	10	375
Red Sox	4	15	286

V. M. C. A. MEETINGS.

The second part of the Y. M. C. A. minstrel show will open with a fraternal dance at the Y. M. C. A. hall, and the show will continue at the Y. M. C. A. hall.

ENTERTAINERS CLASS.

Robert R. Jones, who will leave on March 15 for Albert Lea, Minn., entertained 20 members of the senior class of high school at his residence last evening. Music and games were the amusement of the evening and refreshments were served.

WILL HOLD MARKET.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will hold a market this afternoon in the Rees home room.

SWEETWATER REVIVAL.

Rev. J. A. Amon, pastor of the Christian Church, has been holding evangelistic meetings at the Sweetwater mission in Sweetwater. The church has been crowded each evening. A number of the local congregation have been helping out with the meetings.

ENTERTAINERS CLASS.

Miss Kate Thibault entertained the Standard Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church at her residence last evening. Following the program and business refreshments were served.

MAN IS DROPPED.

As a result of the meeting yesterday afternoon to see if the Young Women's Christian League would be a permanent organization in Scottdale, the ladies who attended the meeting at the Reformed Church yesterday afternoon decided that Scottdale could not keep up an organization of this kind. This kind of an organization is similar to a Y. M. C. A. and the ladies felt that this was too large a proposition for Scottdale.

FOR SALE.

One lot Scottdale avenue, 120x120 feet for $100.00.
Two choice lots on Holmstead avenue, 40x110 feet for $500.00 each.

NOTES.

Mr. McIntyre of there was a caller here yesterday.
Mrs. Thomas Mabry has returned from a ten day trip to Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kelly have gone on a business trip to Hartford, Conn.
Robert Cove, J. C. Simpson, Howard Newmyer, Isaac Taylor, Thomas Leavelle, James Bricker, F. T. Jones, Frank Johnson and E. W. Dantels attended the safety first meeting in Sweetwater last evening.

Two cases of measles were reported to Health Officer Frank Goshorn, that of George Miller, 30 years old, and William Cox, four years old, son of W. S. Cox.

Clyde C. DeWitt of Johnstown came home yesterday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. DeWitt.

Elizabeth and Martha Workman and Ruth Frye spent Thursday in Greensburg.

Mrs. S. H. Johnston is visiting in Latrobe.

Miss Mary Johnston is visiting her aunt in Mount Pleasant.

BRUSH TEETH CORRECTLY

The right way to brush the teeth is to hold the bristles upright. In this way the crevices, as well as the surfaces are thoroughly cleaned, provided a few drops of Lysolite in a glass of water are used.

Particles of food which invite germs and microbes get into the tiny crevices. Lysolite reaches every crevice, kills the germs and makes the mouth and breath sweet and clean.

You surely must use Lysolite and avoid decay of teeth. Rinse and gargle with this very satisfying and effective mouth wash and you will escape throat troubles and other germ diseases.

Dentists are urging the use of Lysolite because it is such a pure, safe and remarkably effective antiseptic. It cools and soothes, cleanses and brightens and is very economical. Lysolite can be obtained from any druggist.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL

Run-Down, Weak and Nervous—Made Strong by Vinol.

For the benefit of Connelleville school girls who overwork and get into high nervous, weak and run-down condition, we publish this letter from Morris Copier, of Port Worth, Tex.—"I go to the high school and take music lessons, and become run-down, weak and very nervous, so I could not do anything. I would shake all over and would have screamed at times, and was really unfit to keep on with my studies. Mother purchased a bottle of Vinol for me and within a week I was better, and in two weeks I had gained five pounds and felt fine."

It is the curative strengthening elements of the true cod liver extract, aided by the blood-making, revitalizing effect of peptonized cod liver oil, best known, contained in Vinol which made it so successful in building up health and strength and overcoming the nervous condition of Miss Copier, and we ask every school girl in Connelleville who is in a like condition to try Vinol, on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit. Laughrey Drug Company—Adv.

Sawdust Sidelines

"Take the Name of Jesus With You." "We Shall See the King Some Day," and "Jesus Included Me" were the songs sung during the first part of the service. Before Loren Jones took the platform the Sunbeams and Moonbeams enjoyed themselves singing "If You're a Smiling Christian."

Loren Jones took his solo out of the little red book. He sang "Jesus, Blessed Jesus."

The invocation was made by Rev. Francis Cox, Allison, pastor of the Evangelical Church at Poplar Grove.

The business girls will get another feed next Friday evening. To take care of the big delegation it will be served in the basement of the First Presbyterian church.

Three of the Bob Jones party will go visiting Sunday morning. Mrs. Francis Cox, Allison, is scheduled to speak at the Poplar Grove Evangelical Association church; Rev. W. M. Curtis at the Dunbar Baptist church; and Joe Elliot at the Dunbar Methodist Protestant church.

"A Man Sent to Hell by a Woman," is the topic of Bob Jones' sermon to men only Sunday afternoon. We have the word of Rev. W. M. Curtis that it is at the little indicates. Plenty of seats on the left don't shove.

For the women next Friday night the topic will be "The Woman in the Case." There are possibilities in the title.

The delegations are promised for next week. They are as follows: Monday night, young peoples' societies; Tuesday night, Junior Order of United American Mechanics; Daughters of America; and the miners; Wednesday night, shopmen; Thursday night, women only.

Tomorrow evening at 6.45 there will be a rally for the new converts in the Presbyterian church, led by Mrs. Allison.

Bob Jones made his usual eloquent plea for subscriptions. The price is still down. Nothing less than a dollar and the sky is the limit. The dollar responses have been generous and it is probable the entire expense will be raised by Sunday. The guarantors were requested to sign up for $5. Bob Jones exhorted them that they were getting out mighty easy. There was no rule invoked to prevent the men who signed the night previous from putting another promise in the pan.

Loren Jones had a heart to heart talk with one section of his choir. He was requested to report the monologue for the benefit of the press box, but declined. Loren talked almost as if he were a trifle peevish.

Mrs. Charles H. Story took Mrs. Loren Jones' place at the piano when she was down to work among the business girls.

Loren Jones led off with a sentence prayer when that part of the evening's program was reached. Any other fellow him and then Bob Jones resumed his plea.

"If Mrs. Loren Jones can't get 'em they're hopeless," was the way one young woman sized up the situation among the business girls. Mrs. Loren Jones, Mrs. Bob Jones and Mrs. Allison have not worked harder since the campaign opened, and every friend they had in the house was pulling for a stamped.

Bob Jones held a meeting in one corner of the building with the Christian men who want the meeting tomorrow afternoon to be a success. He urged every man to have a friend ready to take a stand. The workers are hoping that last Sunday afternoon's record will be eclipsed.

Bob Jones scored the choir members for their lack of interest in personal work. "You had better come down yourselves, if you can't go out and get others," he said. Choirmaster Jones also reminded the choir for not taking them to go after all persons they saw standing about.

Tonight Connelleville business women will attend a supper to be given in the United Presbyterian Church. The object of the supper is to have the business women numbering over 300, meet the ladies of the Bob Jones party, including Mrs. Francis Cox, Allison. There will be an after-supper talk. At the conclusion of the supper the speakers they will march in a body to the tabernacle.

F. H. Rudolph was an additional member to the orchestra last night. He played the trombone.

The foreman on duty last night were Chief William E. Debolt, Samuel Rowe, Carl Shuler and Joel Brown.

Facts Versus Fallacies

FACT is a real state of things. FALLACY is an apparently genuine, but really illogical statement or argument.

A COMMISSION of the Norway Parliament, debating whether a Prohibition law was expedient, or could be enforced if passed, has voted an unmistakable "no." For part of which study was made into legislative and other conditions affecting the alcoholic beverage business in the United States. At the end of the three year's patient and analytic study the Commission of Norway's Parliament gave a vote of 8 to 1 against Prohibition!

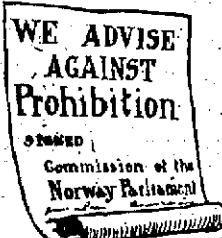

THIS Commission consisted of nine members. The majority report, signed by six members, advised against Prohibition of the import and manufacture of liquors that are subjected to the same rigid laws now in Sweden, and in accordance with what is known as the Bradske System. The sale of liquors by this system is subjected to the most rigid limitations. The majority report also favors the Swedish system for the sale of beer, in accord with which beer, below 2 1/2 per cent. alcohol by weight, is sold free of restrictions.

THE significance of the Commission's work is apparent. Selected by the Parliament of Norway, nine representative and learned men spent three years studying the claims of "dry" agitators, weighing the FALLACIES not only of Norwegian Prohibitionists, but the unprovable claims of the "drys" from other countries.

THEN, with the FACTS before them relative to the manufacture, sale and use of alcoholic beverages, the Commission voted, 8 to 1, against Prohibition.

AND this action of the Commission appointed by Norway's Parliament is typical of the trend of thought today on the liquor question. Misled by Prohibition FALLACIES men the "drys." But by educating the Public to the FACTS in the case (and this series of articles is doing its share in the work) 8 out of 9 men (as was the case in Norway's Commission) see the utter unwisdom and the absolute futility of Prohibition.

A NOVEL
GEORGE AGNEW CHAMBERLAIN
COPYRIGHT BY THE CENTURY CO.

Gerry felt the foreman needed putting in place. He went into the house and rearranged everything in his hat. He climbed the fence and called. The horses raised their heads and looked. Some were lazy after waiting but the others trotted over toward him. They stopped a few yards off and scrutinized him as though to divine his intentions. Then they approached cautiously, with tense legs, ready to whiff and bolt. A great colt refused to play the game of fence to a fence. He strode forward and was regarded with a large lump of sugar. The sugar was combed and black, first cousin to virgin molasses, but it was redolent. The horses crowded around Gerry. They pawed at him. He had to beat them back. They made a bold assault on the empty but odorless but Gerry laughed and cleared the fence to get away from them. "I think your master must be mistaken," he said with a smile to the foreman. "Some of these colts can never have been backed."

The foreman looked at him. He began to take Gerry seriously. It was a man to man now. He pointed out the horses that were broken to saddle and named their faults and tricks. Then his shrewd eyes looked around for further details to add to his report to his master. He noted that a few, a very few, of the colts were still lying down when they should have been on their feet. These were headed into a corner of their own and old Bonifacio was tending them. Beside each was a pile of fresh cut grass. As they ate they moved it away, but Bonifacio made the rounds and with his foot pushed back the fodder, keeping it in easy reach.

The foreman's eyes caught on two new-born colts. They had been taken from their weak mothers and were in a rough pen by themselves. The foreman did not have to count the stock to see that none was missing. He was cattle bred. A gap in the herd or the bunch of horses would have down at the seventh sense of the stockman the moment he laid eyes on the field. Instead there were three two colts, standing there, two colts, "Master," he said to Gerry, "you have made up your mind not to lose a head. You would save even these little ones, born before their time?"

Gerry nodded gravely. He had worked hard to save all. He would not let the mere thought of death at Fazenda Florida even down to these least weaklings. He himself had fed them patiently from a warm bottle. In trouble and valuable time they had cost him an acre of cotton. But an acre of cotton was a small price to pay for life.

A grip of the hand and the foreman was off in a daze of dust. At the bridge he pulled his horse within the shuffling fox trot that spurs heat and man but ends instantly in a long journey. A bunch of good tidings rides slowly.

Gerry turned to his work but a cry from the house arrested him. He dropped his head and ran to the house. Dona Maria glanced at him, clapped and hustled him out of the room—out of the house. The door slammed behind him. He heard the great bar drop. He was locked out.

Gerry paced nervously up and down the veranda. Calm came back to him. He saw that he had been a fool. He stopped and sat down on the steps of the veranda. Here, before he had made his bet, she had often sat beside him, caressed him, sung to him. How could he have been so foolish. How could he have been so foolish. He remembered that as she had worked on baby clothes she had said she wished she had some blue ribbon. They had all laughed at her, but she had nodded her head gravely and said, "Yes, I wish I had some blue ribbon—a little roll of blue ribbon." What a brute he had been to laugh!

horvous. "There is no news," he asked.

"None," said Alix and a far-away look came into her eyes as if her mind were off, thousands of miles, intent on a search of its own.

Collingsford broke the spell. He jumped up and said he had come for just one thing—to take her out for a walk. It was one of those nippy early winter afternoons, cut out to fit a walk. Alix must put on her things. She did and together they walked the long length of the avenue and out into the park.

By that time they had decided it was quite a warm afternoon after all—almost warm enough to sit down. They tried it. Collingsford sat half turned on the bench and devoured Alix with his eyes. And just as he was going to say a word Alix gave him a full, measure look and said, almost huskily, "It is too cold, after all. Quite chilly. It was our walking so fast deceived us."

She rose and started tentatively toward the gate. "Come on, Honorable Percy," she said playfully.

Collingsford caught up with her and said moodily, "If you call me Honorable Percy again I shall dub you Honorable Alix."

They were walking down the avenue. "Honorable Alix had a half bad," he continued thoughtfully. "The race has got into the habit of yoking the word honest to our attitude toward other people's ponies but it's a good old word that stands for trustworthy, sincere, truthful and all the other adjectives that it straight riding."

"Speaking of riding, Mr. Collingsford, you're riding for a fall," Alix glanced at him meaningly.

"How did you know?" he stammered and then went on rather sulkily, "I mean, you'll break your stick and it's the one I like."

Collingsford turned a flushed face to her. "Look here, Alix," he said, "you are honest and sincere and all those things I said. Don't let's hedge—not just now. If your bad luck"

Gerry went in and knelt beside the bed. Margarita looked at him and smiled faintly, proudly. He laid the little roll of blue ribbon in her weak hand. She turned her head slowly and looked down. She saw the gilt of blue and understood. She turned her eyes, swimming black pools in white, drawn face, to Gerry. To sacrifice she added adoration.

The colts which had settled on Alix's life puzzled her. She wondered if she was beginning to miss Gerry less. She was still doubting the point when Collingsford arrived in the city. Upon arrival he called on Mrs. J. Y. and then on Nance and then, of course, on Alix. As she came into the room he felt a strange fluttering in his throat. It stopped his words of greeting. He stammered and stared. He had never felt so glad at the sight of any one.

"What are you looking so disconcerted about?" cried Alix with a smile and holding out her hand. "Has a short year changed me so much? Am I so thin or so fat?"

Collingsford recovered himself. "Neither too thin nor too fat. It is perfection, not imperfection that distinguishes a man. You call it a short year?" he added gravely. "It's been an eternity—not a year!"

But Alix was not to be diverted from her tone of language. She looked him over critically. "Well," she said, "I congratulate you. I didn't know before that bronze could bronze. What a lot of health you carry about with you!"

Collingsford smiled. "Clam said I looked as though I had been living on bubble."

They sat and stared at each other. Each found the other good to look upon. Seen alone, Collingsford's tall, tenuous figure or the fragile quality of Alix's pale beauty, would have seemed hard to match. Seen together, they were wonderfully in tune. Alix grew grave under inspection, Collingsford

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quick? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenameled surfaces unprotected.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession; and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set and you will eventually lose them. To save your teeth you will have to begin to fight this dread disease at once.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Remedies Company 393 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

NOT MUCH BUILDING ACTIVITY REPORTED DURING THIS WEEK

South Connelleville Accepts
Bids for New Borough
Building.

IS TO BE ERECTED QUICKLY

If Contractor Can Start at Once, structure is to be Turned Over in Side of Two Weeks, Goldstone Bros.
Having a Modern Front Built.

Some little building activity was reported during the week just passed, though the weather is still too wintry to expect any rush of contracts for new homes or improvements.

The most important contract let this week was by the South Connelleville council for a one-story, two room borough building and to keep something that the borough has needed for a long time. A. A. Deter of Connelleville, the highest bidder, was awarded the contract. The building was not competitive, each contractor being required to submit a description of a building best suited for the borough's use together with his price. If the weather permits the building is to be begun next week and rushed through to completion within two weeks.

Goldstone Brothers' Pittsburg street store is undergoing extensive improvements, an arcade window front being in course of erection. This will be completed within a few days and it will give this important business street another modern front.

HERE'S PROOF

A Connelleville "Olden" Tells of His Kidneys.

You have a right to doubt statements of people living far away but can you doubt Connelleville endorsement?

Read It:
H. D. Barclay, shoemaker, 124 1/2 Main St., Connelleville, says: "I had a severe attack of lame back and pain across my loins. I could hardly straighten up and didn't rest well at night. The kidney sections were discolored and contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills promptly relieved the lameness and soreness in my back and cleared the kidney sections. I am now better and don't have any trouble from my kidneys." (Statement given October 12, 1909.)

Over four years later, Mr. Barclay said: "Doan's Kidney Pills entirely cured me and my back has been in good shape for a long time."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Barclay has twice publicly recommended. Foster-McBride Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y., Adv.

Last Chance to Enroll in the Pictorial
Review School of Dressmaking

Classes Begin Monday, March 13th

—CLASSES WILL BE CONDUCTED DAILY from 9 A. M. to 5:30 P. M. in a private room on the fifth floor, each class being of 1 1/2 hours duration. Mrs. Bellamy, special representative of the Pictorial Review Co., will be at the Pattern Counter Friday and Saturday to give expert assistance in the selection of proper materials and styles for your new gowns. She will also explain the many advantages of Pictorial Review Patterns and how to use them properly. This Dress Making School affords a great opportunity for women to learn to design and make their own and their children's clothes.
